Testing Service

Testing. Agility believes there is no more important word than this. That's because testing is the crux to creating and preserving a viable recovery plan. We've painstakingly created a systematic test experience that will 1) ensure members are comfortable with the recovery process, 2) confirm their documented steps are valid and 3) make certain all vital components required are identified and available.

Availability and Fees

Validate your mobile and/or technology strategy at an Agility site with the help of Agility's team of recovery experts. These services are available from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday and are subject to a test fee of $1,500. Time above and beyond those specified will be billed at a pre-determined rate.

You may also choose to test your recovery strategy at your own site. Technology tests are subject to a $500 fee plus shipping and handling. Mobile testing is also available, contact Client Services for more details.
